History of Afternoon Tea

Tea consumption increased dramatically during the early nineteenth century and it is around this time that Anna, the 7th Duchess of Bedford is said to have complained of “having that sinking feeling” during the late afternoon.

The solution for the Duchess was a pot a tea and a light snack, taken privately in her boudoir during the afternoon.

Later friends were invited to join her, and this summer practice proved so popular that the Duchess continued it when she returned to London, sending cards to her friends asking them to join her for “tea and a walking the fields.”

Other social hostesses quickly picked up on the idea and the practice became respectable enough to move it into the drawing room.

Before long all fashionable society was sipping tea and nibbling sandwiches in the middle of the afternoon. We welcome you to The Red Door Country House and invite you to relax and enjoy this time-honored tradition...
